ABSTRACT

This directory list 56 regional and 96 subregional network libraries in the United States, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands which circulate Library of Congress braille and recorded books and magazines for the blind and handicapped. Entries appear alphabetically by state. Within each state there are listings for regional libraries, subregional libraries alphabetically by city, and separate agencies lending playback equipment and accessories. Each entry indicates: (1) name, address, and telephone as of 1976; (2) hours, special collections, and services as of 1975; and (3) regional libraries which also lend playback equipment. The appendices contain 1975 statistics on active readers, circulation, budget, staff, and collections in regional and subregional libraries. (KP)

PREFACE

A free national library service providing recorded and braille materials for blind and physically handicapped persons is administered by the Library of Congress Division for the Blind and Physically Handicapped (DBPH). With copyright permission granted by authors and publishers, the Library of Congress selects and produces full-length books and magazines in braille and on recorded disc and cassette. These books and magazines are then distributed to a cooperating network of regional and subregional libraries that circulate them to eligible borrowers by postage-free mail. Network libraries also offer reference, readers' advisory, and other services.

Established by an act of Congress in 1931 to serve blind adults, this program was expanded in 1952 to include children, and again in 1966 by Public Law 89-522 to include individuals with physical impairments that prevent the reading of standard print. Fifty-six regional and ninety-six subregional libraries are currently part of the network, serving all parts of the United States, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands.

Playback equipment is loaned free for use with books and magazines recorded on disc at 8 and 16 rpm and on cassette at 1 7/8 and 15/16 ips. Accessories supplied on request include earphones, pillowphones, and remote and speed control units. Libraries and other designated machine-lending agencies serve as distribution points for playback equipment and accessories.

Applications for library service from eligible persons or institutions such as hospitals and nursing homes are made directly to the network library or machine-lending agency serving a particular geographic area.

Application forms, demonstration equipment, and sample reading materials are available in many local public libraries.

American citizens temporarily living abroad receive service directly from the Library of Congress Division for the Blind and Physically Handicapped. Those who wish to make use of the division's extensive collection of braille music and instructional materials for handicapped musicians or music students may contact the Music Section at DBPH. The division also serves as a national bibliographic center on reading materials for the handicapped and as a source for interlibrary loan by network libraries.

This directory is arranged alphabetically by state. Within each state, the regional library appears first, followed by subregional libraries listed alphabetically by city. In several states two regional libraries have been established; in these instances the specific service area of each library is shown. Regional libraries that also function as machine-lending agencies are identified by an asterisk immediately following the name of the library. Separate machine-lending agencies are listed as the final entry for the state.

Names, addresses, and telephone numbers are current as of July 1976. Other information presented, including the data appearing in the appendixes, was obtained in 1975 and represents the latest information available at the time of publication.

Standard data elements were established for each type of entry. A blank space after a standard data element indicates that either a particular service is not offered or information was not provided for inclusion in the directory.

Statistics presented in Appendix I: Active Readers and Appendix II: Circulation represent activities of both regional and subregional libraries.
